DATE FOR FALL EVENT SELECTED

Annual Festival and Horse Show
Will be Held Here Last Week
of October This Year.

TENTATIVE PLANS ARE MADE

Public Meeting Will be Held in Court
House Tuesday Afternoon,
August 31.

Meeting together Friday night, horse show promoters and the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce selected the last week in October for the annual fall festival, horse show and combination sale. The week opens on the twenty-fifth of the month.

Advertising the fall event will be started at once. Promoters expect to visit all of the county fairs in this section of the state between now and the time for the festival and show and spread the praises of it far and near.

It was also determined to call a public meeting at the court house assembly room Tuesday afternoon, August 31, which is immediately after the Shelby county fair to make final arrangements for the show and to determine certain things that will have to be settled. Furthermore, at that time, it is thought, a number of committees will be named to do the large amount of work that is to be done to make the festival and show the success it was last year.

In selecting the date, an effort was made not to conflict with anything that would attract Rush county people. In the past, horse show promoters have always tried to avoid Lexington races, because they attract many horsemen from this county. Besides, they are the last harness races of the season and after that all horse trainers and others interested in good horse flesh return home.

The Lexington races will be held October 4 to 16 and the next week would have been picked for the fall festival and horse show but for the fact that the state meeting of the Red Men will be held in Indianapolis October 21 and 22. That meeting conflicted with the horse show and fall festival last year and drew many persons from the city and county to Indianapolis.

The boosters have a number of things on tap. Certain days will be allotted the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce and commercial bodies from smaller cities in this part of Indiana and they will be invited to be Rushville's guests on these occasions.

One of the things to be taken up at the general meeting in the court house Tuesday afternoon, August 31, will be the question of booths during the week. The booths were used for the first time last year and the general impression was that they added much to the show and festival. They changed the aspect of the business section of the city entirely and gave the appearance of a gala week. Judging from the talk among the merchants and others this year, there isn't any question but that the booths will be used again this year.

H. B. Marks, amusement man, will be invited to appear before the public meeting Tuesday afternoon, August 31, to present a proposition which he has to put on some special attractions in connection with the fall festival and horse show. Mr. Marks had a representative here a few weeks ago and proposed a week of amusement, but the merchants turned turned it down because they did not think it was opportune.

It is assured that there will be an

GOING TO ENCAMPMENT

Several Members of U. R. K. of P.
Will Leave For French Lick.

From fifteen to twenty members of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias company here expect to leave Rushville Sunday for French Lick Springs to attend the biennial encampment of the Uniform Rank of Indiana and Illinois. Some members went in machines, but the majority will leave on the Pennsylvania in the morning at 7:10 o'clock. Prizes are to be awarded this year, not for drilling, but for the best attendance. The last encampment was held at Danville, Ill., and many from here enjoyed the trip to Danville. S. L. Trabue, a general on the staff of the major general commanding the Uniform Rank, will go in his automobile, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kiplinger.

BAND OF GYPSIES DID NOT TARRY LONG

Rovers Came in This Afternoon to
Tell Fortunes But Were Soon
Driven Out by Police.

DRIVEN OUT OF CONNERSVILLE

A band of gypsies, which harried the people of Connersville Friday by begging and trying to tell fortunes, rolled into Rushville this afternoon, but was not allowed to tarry long. Someone notified the police and the officers told them to keep moving as there was nothing here for them.

Before the police reached them, however, some of the women in the crowd began begging, but were soon stopped. Rushville has had some experience with this class of hapless wanderers and it has been the custom here for several years never to allow them to remain in the city. Their chief occupation generally is thieving, but their apparent method of earning a living is by telling fortunes.

The Connersville police soon called the band and drove them out of the city, not allowing them to remain much longer than the police here did.

EGG CAR WILL BE HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Shippers and Others Interested Are Urged to Take Eggs and See
How They Are Canded.

EXPERTS TO DEMONSTRATE

Shippers of poultry and eggs and all others interested in the business are invited to take eggs, in quantity up to ninety dozen, to the United States department of agriculture poultry and egg demonstration car which will be at the Pennsylvania railroad station here next Tuesday. The car will be open all day, from eight-thirty in the morning until four-thirty in the afternoon.

The car is coming for the purpose of demonstrating practical methods of candling, grading, chilling and packing eggs and the handling of poultry for the market. Specialists in charge of the car will be glad to grade eggs for all who bring them, according to market requirements and to explain each grade. The eggs taken by local producers will remain their property.

TO RESUME WORK ON HIGH SCHOOL

Contractor Says he Hopes to Finish
Manilla Building in Time For School This Winter.

STARTED ABOUT A YEAR AGO

Construction Held up Because of
Lack of Funds—School Patrons
Are Rejoicing.

School patrons of Walker township were rejoiced Friday when they learned that work on the new Walker township high school building would be resumed next week and the building would likely be ready for occupancy soon after the date for the opening of the school.

The good news was brought to Manilla when C. S. Williams, the contractor, arrived from his home in Tipton, Indiana, and announced that he would proceed to finish the building at once. The building will be put in such condition that it may be used during the regular school year.

It will be readily recalled that work was stopped on the building because of the lack of township funds to complete the job. The building was started a year ago and should have been finished before the last school year closed, but for the delay.

Last winter the high school and grades convened in the various available rooms about the town, but this year this arrangement is impossible, therefore the new building must be finished sufficiently to afford occupancy by the pupils. During the last school season the grades held school in the rooms above the Manilla bank and three rooms of the Manilla hotel and the high school convened in the hall above the Whisman hardware store.

A representative of Mr. Williams stated Friday evening that it would probably be a few weeks after the regular date for resuming school in the fall before the building would be completed. An efficient corps of workers will be set to work during the coming week.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Claude Walker Fixes Liabilities at $10,622 and Assets at $5,762.

Claude Walker, a well known farmer of this county, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal court in Indianapolis. Walker places his liabilities at $10,662 and his assets at $5,762. The first meeting of the creditors is scheduled for Monday, August 23, at one-thirty o'clock at the library of the federal building in Indianapolis. It will be recalled that some time ago A. B. Irvin and the Farmers Trust company attempted to obtain a receiver for Walker, but failed when the case tried in the local circuit court.

The outfit was owned by Green and they were returning home when the accident occurred.

Mathew McBride, of Mays, who has been in ill health for some time, is now seriously ill and his condition is alarming.

MEXICAN FLURRY RESULT OF PLOT

Attempt Was Made to Stampede the
United States Into War, But
it Evidently Failed.

BORDER TROUBLE A PART OF IT

President Wilson's Note to Carranza
Will be Made Public Tomorrow
Intervention Far Away.

Washington, August 14.—The recent Mexican flurry was a plot to stampede the United States into war. Three hours after President Wilson arrived in Washington it petered out. The identity of the plotters is not public property, but in Washington and other cities an investigation is under way to discover the interests behind the attempt.

The plotters felt that when Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats met, the time for action had arrived. Their scheme was to cause trouble along the border and to antagonize Carranza, but the attempted stampede failed.

Intervention is as far away as ever today.

President Wilson's note to Carranza and the Mexican leaders will be made public tomorrow. From a reliable source it was learned today that the appeal is very similar to the former one urging the military leaders to get together for peace and promising recognition if this is done along constitutional lines.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 14.—During "Newspaper Week" from October 10 to October 16, set aside as a special week for boosting Minnesota, 700 daily and weekly newspapers in the state are planning to give the movement, with front page publicity, space which an advertiser could not buy for $120,000. These special editions and newspaper boosts are to be sent by the newspapers to a large list of residents of other states, supplied by the Minnesota Editorial association.

KEEP UP ATTACK ON KOVNO

General Von Hindenberg Continues
to Gain Ground.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, August 14.—General Von Hindenberg's troops attacking the fortress of Kovno have stormed and captured a fortified forrest in front of the fortress.

"Between the Narew and the Bug we have reached the Slina-Nurzew section," said the official statement. "East of Warsaw the Bavarians have occupied Sieblee and are approaching the Bug northeast of Sekeles, having repulsed several German counter attacks."

SECOND PHASE OF CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Russian Center on Eastern Front is
Gradually Giving Ground With
Very Little Resistance

FLANKS BEING HARASSED

(By United Press.)
Berlin, (Via The Hague), Aug. 14.—The second phase of the campaign on the eastern front is rapidly drawing to a close—the Russian center giving ground with little resistance in its retreat to the Kovne-Brest-Litevsk line.

Attacking the Russian wings are Von Hindenberg and Mackensen, the two greatest generals Germany has produced during the present war.

Kovne is being subjected to terrific assaults by Von Hindenberg and there is not the slightest doubt here that the fortress must soon succumb. Mackensen is pressing slowly northward on Brest-Litevsk, dealing heavy blows on the Russian left flank.

DEATH LIST NOT TO REACH 1,000

Eastland Has Been Righted and
Search of Hulk Expected to
to be Completed Today.

ESTIMATES BELIEVED HIGH

(By United Press.)
Chicago, August 14.—The doomed ship Eastland, which three weeks ago this morning toppled in the Chicago river with 2,500 children, women and men on board, had been drawn nearly upright today by wrecking tugs.

There was growing belief among the wreckers and officials that the estimate of bodies placed as high as 500 still held in the charnel ship would be found to have been grossly exaggerated. With only ten on the coroner's missing list and 843 bodies recovered, it was believed the death list might not go over 1,000 at the outside. The search in the hulk was expected to be completed late this afternoon.

The remains of Mrs. Maria Smelser, who died yesterday at Flint, Mich., will arrive here Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock over the C. H. & D. The funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence, 320 West Third street. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

The Williams family reunion will be held at Mattern park, Marion, Ind., next Thursday.

RAIN GENERAL ALL OVER STATE

Optimistic Weather Man Predicted
Fair Skies But Still it Continues to Fall in Gobs

HEAVY LOSS TO THE FARMERS

Downfall Today Makes Impossible
Threshing Sunday, Which Many
Planned For Day of Rest

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 14.—Farmers from all parts of Indiana today reported great damage done wheat by the continual wet weather. Those fortunate to have threshed are congratulating themselves, for the wheat of their neighbors is rotting in shock and in many cases has begun to sprout.

Conservative estimates places the loss to farmers at many thousands of dollars.

Despite the optimistic weather man who predicted fair weather today, reports received by the United Press indicated general rains, with the center of the rain belt probably in their neighborhood. It rained here throughout the night. At Columbus today it rained 1.3—4 inches in a short time this morning. It rained at Terre Haute, Princeton, Bedford, Vincennes, Lafayette, Covington, Seymour, Greensburg, Connersville and Newcastle. Rain threatened at Fort Wayne and Logansport.

The downfall of rain today made Sunday in the wheat field an impossibility. Many farmers in Rush county had the day of rest marked down for a day of rest threshing, but all prospect of such a thing was erased this morning when rain began to fall gently, and then increased with such speed that is was soon a downpour.

The most optimistic of farmers have had their patience severely tried. They counted on Friday, the thirteenth, to break the hoodo—and it did, but only for a day. The sun shone for the first time for more than a few minutes at a time since Sunday, August 1. There was a heavy rain of the last day of last month. The first day of the month was not so bad, but every day since then, with the exception of Friday, the thirteenth, rain has fallen in Rushville and vicinity.

The rain today was general all over the county and in this part of the state for that matter, according to United Press dispatches. Some farmers in Rushville today said they knew of fields of wheat that would never be entered with the threshing machine if the present wet weather continues.

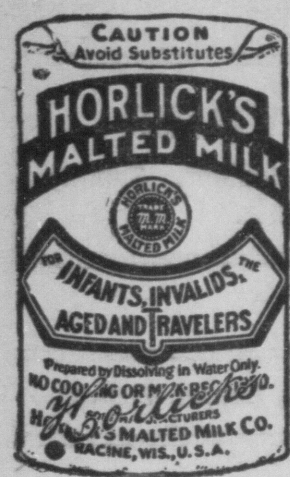

MEXICANS ARE UNITING

Have Surrendered to Carranza.

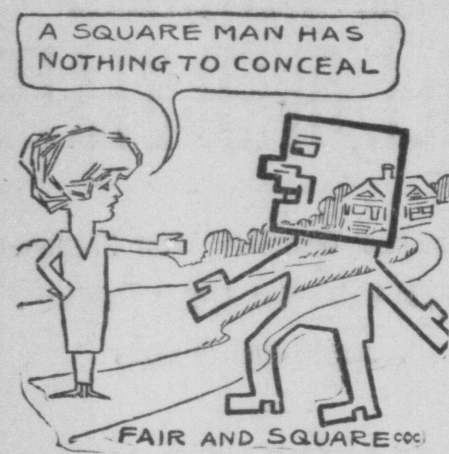

(By United Press.)
Galveston, Texas, Aug. 14.—Several thousand Villistas in various parts of Mexico have surrendered to Carranza forces as they desired to unify the military forces against possible American intervention, Carranza Consul Burns was advised from Vera Cruz today.

Burns expressed the belief that powerful Mexican and American interests are encouraging the border raids, hoping to bring about intervention.

The Red Men will have work in the Warriors degree Tuesday evening.

WOMAN AS FIT AS MAN FOR SOLDIER

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent Con- tends Sex Is No Handicap.

RATHER HE HOLDS IT A HELP

Harvard University Expert on Physical Training Declares His Experience of the Feats of Girls Proves That It Is Impossible to Set Limits to Their Endurance.

Women could be made as fit for military duty as men, in the opinion of Dr. Dudley A. Sargent of Harvard university, who has given more than half a century of study to the problem of physical training of young folk. He holds that sex is no handicap to military training and cites many examples of physical feats performed by women. "Every day," said Dr. Sargent, "I am astonished at the physical and mental possibilities shown by young women yet in college and those who are already out in the world making good. Almost daily I find it necessary to revise my carefully worked out theories and formulas as to what young women can do until now I find it safest not to suggest the limits of their capabilities. "In one of the sad stories that has just come to us of the terrible Lusitania tragedy we have accounts of several women who swam about for many hours until rescued. What they did any able bodied, well trained woman might have done. At the time of the sinking of the Empress of Ireland in the Gulf of St. Lawrence a child only ten years old swam and floated about in the water for several hours and seemed none the worse for her adventure.

Capable of Marvelous Endurance. "All theories to the contrary, women are capable of marvelous endurance, and so on this score cannot be rated ineligible for training for military service. But in spite of the actual proof to support this contention, many persons will shake their heads and say that I am forgetting that women are the bearers of the race and that their penalty for physical hardships will be sure and far-reaching.

"Nature, in giving to her a special task—or privilege—has endowed her with the necessary bodily strength. "Woman's sex is not a handicap, either mental or physical, unless woman chooses to make it one. "The great stretches of Russia could show up countless stolid faced, big muscled, sturdy women, who plow fields, reap the crops, make the black bread and bear the children and who have never even heard that they are a weaker sex.

"There are in most of our large cities today foreign born women who are familiar to us chiefly as picturesque figures on the streets as they are home-ward bound with a week's fuel balanced gracefully on their heads. They walk upright and easily, and the careful observer will note a sturdiness that will surprise him.

Better Equipped Than Man. "Physiologically the healthy woman is better equipped by nature to withstand cold and exposure than the average man. Every one knows that in regions of severe climate men wear heavier clothing and more of it than women.

"To say that a woman's pride is keeping her warm as she sweeps up the street on a blustering zero day with open coat, thin shirt waist, exposed neck and thinly stockinged feet is not altogether true, for nature is aiding her. She will, of course, suffer from unwise exposure, but not to the same degree that a man would.

"But the sad fact is that few of our American born women, the descendants of our early settlers, are trained up to even a moderate degree of bodily efficiency.

"An able-bodied woman who has undergone the same rigorous training that a soldier has should suffer no more serious consequences than he from forced marches in a pouring rain or a sleepless night in a trench.

"The type of modern woman who is a product of steam heated apartments, matinees, teas and ennuis is fitted neither for motherhood nor for suffrage, to say nothing of tasks savoring of militarism. But a woman of this type is in a class by herself. To be sure, the class is rather large, but the women who compose it are not the ones who will shape the future either of our homes or of our nation's destinies.

"In a frame of mind that would be ludicrous if it were not pathetic these women shield themselves from physical exertion, accept headaches and other weaknesses as if they were a part of their heritage as women and resort to bridge and similar 'light' recreations."

BRIDE WEDS IN CAST.

Society Girl Won't Let Operation In Hospital Postpone Wedding.
Miss Sarah Penner George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. George, well known in Baltimore society, declined to have her marriage to Dr. T. Grier Miller of Philadelphia postponed, and the ceremony was performed at her bedside in a private hospital.

The bride recently underwent a serious operation and was encased in a plaster cast while the ceremony was performed.

What Causes Tuberculosis?

There can be no tuberculosis without the germ, the tubercle bacillus. Whether the disease appears in the lungs, in the hand, in the hips, or in the eye, it is the same germ that always causes it.

Looking at it from another way, however, the germ of tuberculosis can never cause the disease unless the soil has been prepared for it. It is as if the germ were the seed, the body were the soil. You cannot raise wheat on a hard, cobblestone pavement nor can you grow corn on a board walk. Neither can you grow tuberculosis from the tiny plant-like germ which causes the disease, on a soil which is hard and resistant. The tissues of the body in which the disease is to develop, first be weakened and made flabby and prepared for the growth of the disease somewhat as the farmer prepares his soil before sowing his seed.

What are the causes that prepare the soil for the growth of tuberculosis germs in the body? There are first of all a group of causes which lie within the individual himself, which we may call personal causes. Some of them may be controlled by the individual and some of them are beyond his control. Take such causes, for example, as intemperance, lack of proper food, a weakened physical condition caused by gripe, colds, pneumonia, measles, typhoid fever, etc.—these are some of the personal causes which prepare the soil for the tuberculous seed. Then there is also another group of causes which are entirely outside of the individual and which we may designate as environmental or social causes. Some of these are, for example, bad living and working conditions, lack of play and recreation facilities, unclean streets, etc.

These two groups of causes may either separately or altogether, act upon one so that his normal strength and vitality, which we call resistance, is lowered and he readily becomes a prey to the disease germs which are constantly lurking about and which he may be harboring in his body without knowing it. Let us consider some of these causes a little more in detail.

Of the personal causes that lead to tuberculosis, probably intemperance may be reckoned as one of the most important. By intemperance is meant everything in the way of self indulgence that injures the body. One may be intemperate in eating by partaking of too much food may produce permanent digestive disturbance which weakens the bodily resistance. One may be intemperate in the use of drugs or in other ways, thereby weakening the bodily resistance. The most frequent form of intemperance, however, is the use of intoxicating liquors. Any man who drinks beer, wine or whiskey to excess is preparing the soil of his lungs for the seed of tuberculosis. This is the reason why the mortality from tuberculosis among men and women who are accustomed to drink is so high, much higher according to reliable statistics than among people who do not use intoxicating liquors.

Many children from the time they are born into the world are doomed to starvation. Other people because they like candy, pie, and cake better than meat, bread, and vegetables, are starving themselves willfully. This underfeeding or lack of proper food will as surely prepare the soil for tuberculosis as if one deliberately set out to do so.

Many people have a notion that if they have apparently recovered from a bad cold or an attack of gripe or pneumonia, there is no further danger and they are perfectly safe. Oftentimes the most dangerous period in an acute disease is during the few weeks immediately after the patient is able to be up and about. It is during this time of convalescence that the seeds of the disease will find a sure root if special care is not taken. Fresh air, good food, rest, and right living are the best safeguards against tuberculosis during a time such as this. The after-effects of many diseases can be avoided if the patient will continue to persist in taking care of himself just the same as he did when he was in the bed under the doctor's orders.

Then there are those causes of tuberculosis which are entirely outside of the individual such as bad housing conditions. Dark rooms where the sun never shines are among the best places possible for the germs of tuberculosis. Here they thrive in great quantities and it is almost impossible to dislodge them. Dark, filthy hallways, unclean sinks, and dirty backyards and toilets are also menaces to the health of those who live near them. Many a man can improve these conditions with a little effort if he will take the time to do so. More often, however, it is the landlord's fault that the housing conditions are not better.

Low wages, long hours of work, dark unventilated factory rooms, excessive heat, and dusty occupations are only a few of the conditions which make it easy for the seed of tuberculosis to attack the working man. The lack of proper places for play and recreation, which makes a man go to the saloon at night instead of into the park or playground, is a social cause leading to tuberculosis. These social causes can be fought only by the united effort of the men and women of the community. Individuals can help but it takes all shoulders at the wheel to produce effective results.

In conclusion, remember that the soil must be right before the seed of tuberculosis can grow, and that you can contribute much towards keeping the soil of your body in such condition that no germs will find a root there.

IS SENT TO STATE FARM

James Donahue of Rush County in Shelbyville Police Court.

James Donahue, living in the western part of Rush county, drew a fine of $30 and 30 days at the state penal farm when arraigned before the Mayor of Shelbyville Friday. It was his fifth appearance on a similar charge and this accounts for the heavy fine. He was unable to pay the fine and will serve the sixty days at the state farm. Donahue's name is on the list of habitual drunkards kept by the Shelbyville saloon men.

Barefooted Soldiers.
Slam's present military organization dates from 1902 and is the outcome of two years' study of the various military organizations of Europe. It embodies the militia system, with a dash of universal service.
Every citizen is liable to serve for two years in the line and then for five years in the first and ten years in the second reserve, but only so many are called up as are required to keep up a strength of about 30,000 men on a peace footing. Those who are thus called up receive as compensation certain abatements of taxes. The rest of those liable to serve pass straight into the reserve, which is called out at certain intervals for from fifteen to sixty days' training.
Besides his arms and his clothes, the Slamese soldier receives 4 ticals (a tical equals about 35 cents) a month, besides 25 satungs (about 8 cents) a day, half of which latter sum, however, is stopped to pay for the single meal of rice that the state "provides." The soldier has to buy his own footwear and the rest of his food. No wonder the majority of the army goes barefooted.—"In the Lands of the Sun."

Spinning a Web.
A patient Englishman, who last summer watched a garden spider spin its nest from start to finish, has told what he saw in Knowledge. At half past 9 o'clock in the evening the spider, a half grown female, began work by dropping from one branch of a pine tree to another below and there making fast a line, which eventually formed two of the perpendicular radiating lines of the web. From that time it continued to work without interruption until twenty-five minutes after 1 the next morning. The network and the radial lines were done by half past 12, and the spiral part of the web was consequently made in less than an hour. He says the finished web was one of the most perfect he has ever seen.

CO-OPERATION ENCOURAGING

Indiana State Automobile Association is Given Support of Prominent Citizens.

DEMAND FOR BETTER ROADS

Indiana Annually Paying Out More Money For Roads Than Any Other State in Union.

The state wide co-operation which the Indiana State Automobile Association is receiving in its campaign for a state highway department and better roads for Indiana is most encouraging. In the numerous cities and towns throughout the state where local clubs have already been organized or are in the process of organization, the active support of the most representative men has been given to the Association's Field Secretaries who are assisting the local communities in perfecting their organizations.

Everywhere the taxpayers are not only asking but demanding better roads and more of them in return for the millions of dollars of their money which is being spent annually for road construction and road maintenance, they see the means to this end in the organization and affiliation of a state-wide chain of local clubs composed of automobile owners and good road enthusiasts.

Indiana is yearly paying out more money for roads than any other state in the union regardless of size or wealth, not even excepting New York with eight times its resources. The people of Indiana are spending about $15,000,000 annually for roads, which amount is more than all the expenditures of the state put together. While the taxpayers have zealously provided for the economical and efficient expenditure of the money which they pay annually to run the state and its institutions, they have made no such provisions for the supervision and economical expenditure of the much greater sum which they spend for roads.

The result is that for each dollar of the $15,000,000 which is expended annually on the highways, the community gets back less than 30c worth of road. In other words, for the $15,000,000 of the taxpayers' money spent last year in connection with the highways of the state, the several townships got in return something less than $4,500,000 worth of road. Would, or could, any business corporation long continue on such a basis? Business corporations today that are spending $15,000,000 annually are employing the best and most expert men obtainable in their respective lines of endeavor, so as to insure the greatest return for the money expended and yet the state of Indiana has no one to supervise the expenditure of this vast sum nor anyone on whom she can place the responsibility of efficiently and economically administering this fund.

At the present time, in this state there are no legal requirements for standard specifications or for testing the quality or durability of the materials used in the construction of roads, although the law does take the pains to specify that the person to whom is entrusted the construction of the road must be a resident of the township in which the proposed road is located, this being the sole requirement of fitness for his duties. It is, therefore, not strange that under the prevailing system, hundreds of miles of roads in this state are either imperfectly constructed or improper materials are used and the question of traffic requirements left entirely out of consideration.

The result of this condition, in most instances, is that our so called improved roads begin to give way and wear out and become practically worthless long before the outstanding bonds, which were floated to build them, have matured. This is an inexcusable economic waste which would not be tolerated by any legitimate business organization and should not be tolerated by the taxpayers of Indiana. The people pay for good roads and should insist on having them.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, bo's, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the bowels, so gentle and refreshing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. "Made-in-America"

There are thousands of acres of marsh lands in Minnesota, Wisconsin and other state which produce wire grass, entirely useless for feed, and, for many years considered an unmitigated nuisance. Such lands were worth from $2 to $3 an acre. Discovery that this wire grass was suited to use in the manufacture of floor matting and carpets was followed by establishment of factories whose owners bought such lands or leased them from the farmers. Land values immediately advanced to $20 or more an acre. Several thousand men were employed to gather the grass and to work in the mills weaving rugs and carpets. These mills became large buyers of cotton warp. This new industry became a factor in the "Made-in-America" campaign and supplied six and a half million square yards of matting annually to be sold in competition with 33,500,000 square yards imported in 1910, chiefly from Asia. The imports were reduced to 21,500,000 square yards in 1913, the "Made-in-America" product winning its place in the market with the aid of a protective tariff of 3½ cents per square yard. Democratic tariff law of 1913 cut the duty to 2½ cents and imports went up to 25,000,000 square yards, while some American mills closed their doors.

This shows the difference between the constructive policies of the Republican party and the destructive policies of the Democrats. In many of the states of the Union there are marsh lands that produce wire grass but will produce nothing else unless drained at great expense. In all these states there is labor and capital ready to engage in the manufacture of matting. In every city, village and countryside there are homes where rugs and carpets of this kind is being used. Today these homes are being supplied with matting from China and Japan. It remains for American voter to say in November 1916, whether he wants that 25,000,000 square yards, annually, of Asiatic matting superseded by a similar quantity "Made-in-America." Only an adequate protective tariff will make the change.

We should encourage boxing, wrestling and other manly sports in the life of our young people, especially among young boys. Japan is a nation of little giants, and all because of their physical training. Though small in stature, they are mighty in the art of self-defense. In America we pay so little attention to the physical development of our youth that the country is full of young men who are totally unable to offer any reasonable defense in case of attack. And the time may come when we will need every ounce of energy we can command to keep our national head above the waters of defeat.

The Administration's new and strange activity in favor of an adequate national defense is thought by some to be a Democratic theft of Republican clothes. Maybe. But even so, the garments will not fit. Democracy has always spelled Nation with a capital N. When Colonel Roosevelt talks about "another Buchanan," he undoubtedly has in mind the manner in which Buchanan frittered away the days of grace prior to the Civil war and left the Nation defenseless in its hour of need. History indeed repeats itself. Buchanan was succeeded by a Republican President.

Protection a Necessity

(Philadelphia Bulletin)

Eliminate the "war brides" from the stock market, and the European contracts for munitions of war from the industrial plants of the country and the bottom would drop out of the business situation. The fact is so obvious that it scarcely needs statement, and yet it is important that it should be adequately realized in order that the situation which is to follow when these war orders cease may be anticipated.

When the war ends, which it must some time, United States industry will be dependent chiefly on its home market for business to give employment for the millions of wage workers. Not merely will there be a cessation of orders for guns and shrapnel and other munitions of war, but there will be a lifting of the war embargo on the manufacturers of Europe, which will reenter the American market in more dangerous competition than ever unless some barrier shall be interposed.

An intimate and familiar example for Philadelphia is in hosiery and knit goods industry, the local plants of which are now enjoying a rush of orders to meet the demands of local trade. Every manufacturer and every buyer in the trade knows how ever, that this condition is abnormal and that it exists only because the great factories of northern France and Belgium, which under ordinary conditions, ship their products into the United States at prices with paying the American standard of wages and subject to American labor laws, cannot compete, are out of commission on account of the war. And it is equally simple matter of appreciation that when the war is over and the work of rehabilitation begins—which will not be difficult because the actual industrial destruction has been comparatively small—these goods will again pour into the United States and take away the demand for home labor.

The knit goods industry is but one. The glass industry is another. The perspective industry and other development of coal tar products, and other. And the list might be continued at a great length. Nothing but a protective tariff barrier can avert such an invasion of foreign products, and it is none too early to emphasize that fact in anticipation of the next campaign for the election of a President and Congress and even as indirect consideration of importance in earlier campaigns. Whether the war shall end this year or next, the interest of American industry must be the keynot of the next campaign.

"TOMAHAWK RIGHT."

"There was at an early period of the settlements" says Julia Levering in "Historic Indians," an inferior kind of a title which was known as a tomahawk right. This claim was designated by deadening a few trees near the head of a spring, and marking the bark of some of the trees on the boundaries with the initials of the person who thus set up a claim to the tract. Sometimes these rights had to be verified, or paid for, if they were very desirable; but it is certain that they were bought and sold for a long time."

FINAL RALLY FALLS SHORT

Red Men Throw Scare Into K. of P.'s When Conde Weakens in Seventh Inning.

GOES GOOD FOR FIVE FRAMES

Pythian Team Retains Lead in Fraternal League by 10 to 6. Victory—Battle Next Week.

The Red Men threw an awful scare into the Knights of Pythias by staging a rally in the final inning of the game yesterday afternoon. The contest was finally won by the K. of P. team but it was mighty uncomfortable for a time for the league leaders.

After breezing along fine for six innings Scott Conde blew up and aided by his teammates the Red Men scored four times making the final count 10 to 6. It was a nice game up until the final frame when it was turned into a wild and woolly exhibition making it a weird contest from the stand point of a spectator.

The Knights of Pythias retained their lead in the fraternal league standing, while the Red Men dropped into a tie for the cellar championship with the Knights of Columbus. Conde pitched fine ball for four innings, only one hit and not a sign of a run being made off his delivery. The first hit came in the fourth when Stoops landed a high one to left field. Bert Conde misjudged the ball and it went for two bases.

The Red Men scored their first two runs in the fifth when a double by Miller coupled with an error by Bert Conde and an error by Scott Conde practically handed them to the Red Men.

Conde weakened in the final inning and it was only through the noble efforts of the rest of the team that the Red Men were stopped. Yazel led off with a single and was advanced to second when Levi, who batted for Sweet, followed with a single to right. Hosier hit one through the infield, but Yazel was held on third. With no one out and the bases filled Stoops was safe when Brown threw a little wild, letting Yazel score. Black forced Stoops at second, Carter to Cassidy, but Levi counted. In attempting to complete the double play Cassidy threw wild to first, Hosier scoring and Black taking second. All this happened with only one down. Waggoner singled, scoring Black. Small flew out to Tompkins and Miller ended the game and cut the rally of Red Men short by grounding out to Brown who threw him out at first.

The Knights of Pythias found Yazel rather easy. Carter counted in the very first inning. He was walked and took second on Cassidy's sacrifice. He drew the throw from Stoops and the ball went wild at third base, Carter scoring. A fast double play cut down the chances when McDaniel forced McGuire at second and was himself caught at first.

The K. of P. team came back in the second and scored three more runs. Yazel was as wild as a July rabbit, passing the first two men. Tompkins singled, driving in Camp and B. Conde. Brown flew to Small in right field, who threw the ball over Miller's head in attempting to head Tompkins at the plate.

There was nothing doing in the third, but the K. of P.'s annexed four more in the fourth. Three hits one a double by Carter, and two sacrifice flies, one by Cassidy and the other by McGuire did the business. The K. of P.'s just kept on plugging away and made two more in the sixth. Brown was hit by Yazel and S. Conde was walked. Carter flew to Hosier and then Cassidy slammed one to center field, scoring both men.

One real battle in the fraternal league is expected next Friday when the K. of P.'s tackle the Elks.

Red Cross Ball Blue will wash double as many clothes as any other. Always ask for Red Cross Ball Blue.

BILL DONOVAN HAS MADE GOOD

Leader of New York Yankees Deserves Credit Even if he Does Not Win Pennant.

TEAM FAILURE WITH OTHERS

But he Has Brought Them up to Point Where They Flirt With First Division All Time

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES

New York, Aug. 14.—It is, or should be, hats off to Bill Donovan. He's made good. Bill isn't going to give New York a pennant this year, he many not even bring his Yanks under the wire in the first division, but the big fellow has nevertheless delivered, and he should be handed his roses now before the heat of the Hot Stove League shrivels his prowess.

The Yanks have been loitering coyly around the first division all season, which is a thing so utterly new for Gotham fans that they even now can hardly realize it. Under the old Farrell-Devery regime, with its endless succession of managers, the Highlanders were the Belgium of Ban Johnson's League. Some of the best managers in the business—George Stallings, Frank Chance, Hal Chase, Harry Wolverton—they all took a shot at it with the same luck.

Bill Donovan took hold of a corral looking squad—one that had finished a poor seventh the year before. For a while the Yanks set the pace in the American League, which was quite a feat considering the class showed by several other clubs. The inevitable drop came, but it wasn't so pronounced as in former years. Somehow the Yanks hit the top of the second division and lingered there without going on down. And the Yanks have been doing something this season that even the oldest inhabitant cannot remember their doing before—they've been winning games in the ninth inning. They've got that old fighting spirit that doesn't crumble when they come up in the last inning with a two run lead staring them in the face.

Bill vowed when he took hold of the club that he'd have harmony. He has, at least so far as is known. He's wedded out the trouble makers and the moss-backs, and he's going into the 1916 race with a team of young players that even Connie Mack might envy. A few veterans remain, of course, principally Roy Hartzell and Roger Peckinpaugh, but they're delivering a good brand of ball. Incidentally, Bill Donovan shattered several precedents when he proceeded to get along with Roger Peckinpaugh a player who had managed the club before him. The archives of baseball's history are filled with cases of trouble following a reduction in the ranks, but Bill and Peck seem to work together like a team of thoroughbreds.

The team today stands far ahead of the 1914 crew in most all ways. The club is harmonious, it has twice as many extra base hits now as it had at the close of the last season, and it has the spirit that makes a winner.

There has been a constant stream of talent through the Polo Grounds the last few weeks. And more are on the way. Rupert and Huston are combing the tall grass for youngsters, where Comiskey is buying his players already put up in packages with the net playing ability stamped on it.

The Yanks may not win a pennant next year, but if they hang together and Bill Donovan remains, they're going to be heard from in 1917.

SALVATION OF BRITISH IN AIR

Batter Down Rhine Bridges With Raids and Trench Warfare in France is Ended.

DESTROY MUNITIONS PLANT

This is Only Bit of Advice That Comes From England's Civilian Strategists.

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, July 26. (By Mail)—England's salvation is in the air.

Batter down the Rhine bridges with daily air raids and trench warfare in France is ended.

Send a thousand aeroplanes with 5 bombs each over the huge Krupp munitions factory at Essen and Germany is seriously crippled.

Destroy the nine bridges over the Meuse that daily make possible the transport of arms and ammunition to the German armies in the West and the German armies will be on their knees.

Build or buy a thousand aeroplanes immediately, or two thousand or ten thousand and England will win.

This parcel of advice is the talk of England today. It is being printed in the newspapers, talked on the streets and handed to the government in parliament, through the war office and the Admiralty.

It comes from England strategists. They are agreed that England's future battles must be won in the upper stratum.

It was L. Blin Desbelds, lecturer in aeronautics at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, and one of the best known aeronautical experts in England who first told the government is said to be considering such a ministry.

Today Desbelds is asking the government to add to its air fleet a thousand aeroplanes at once.

Collaborating with other experts Desbelds has gathered the following information in support of his aerial offensive and handed it to the government.

That an average of one military train every ten minutes crosses each of the fifteen bridges spanning the Rhine. They carry food, ammunition and reinforcements to the German armies in the West. This means that during every 24 hours 144 military trains pass into France and Belgium over each of these Rhine bridges or 2,160 over all of them. The German armies are wholly dependent on this constant supply and are provisioned in reserves for four days only.

That every ounce of supplies carried by this great steel caravan must cross nine bridges spanning the Meuse to reach the bulk of the German forces now holding back the British and French on the great line across the continent.

Desbelds has further suggested to the government that daily air raids over both the Rhine and Meuse must seriously hamper the enemy's supply. One thousand aeroplanes on this duty within a week, Desbelds suggested could possibly not only cut off the vast supplies of the enemy but render the German campaign in the West practically impossible.

What Desbelds has told the government about bridges he has also applied to Krupp at Essen.

One of the most vigorous supporters of Desbelds and his theory is H. G. Wells, noted English author. But Wells goes further than Desbelds. He is urging through a series of newspaper articles the building or buying of 10,000 aeroplanes and says "about the ultimate result of the war there can then be no doubt."

"If we can smash Essen, we can hamstring Germany," says Wells. "We want aeroplanes going to and coming from Germany like ants about an anthill, like bees between a hive and clover, but going each with its two or three hundred pounds of high explosives, and coming back empty, from now until the war ends. A daily service of destruction to Germany."

Wells tells the war office it is fighting in the fashion of 1899. He advises war office that thousands of young men from among both naval and military sources could be turned into airmen in a month and every one would be willing to risk his life in aerial attacks on German communications, ammunition factories and bridges.

"It is cheaper," he adds, "to launch 2,000 aeroplanes at Essen to risk one battleship. Aeroplanes will shorten the war. The government is spending $15,000,000 a day. To spend $250,000,000 on aeroplanes will be cheaper in the long run."

C. G. Grey, will known London aeronautical editor, goes one better than either Desbelds or Wells. He asks the government to build or procure 400 aeroplanes a week until 20,000 have been added to the nation's aerial fleet.

James Douglas, in the London Opinion suggests that every possible aeroplane factory in America and Canada as well as England be put to the task of making aircraft for England. He adds;

"The aeroplane is the only weapon that can turn German lines. The main thing is to get plenty of this weapon and quickly. The aeroplane can fly over heavy guns, over the machine guns, over the steel and concrete redoubts, over the trenches. It can hit the Germans behind their lines. The flight sub-lieutenant who downed a Zeppelin single handed has shown what the aeroplane can do. We want ten or twenty thousand Warnefords, who will deluge German railways, stations, depots, airsheds, bridges munition factories with explosives. The aerial defensive has not yet been organized."

Like Desbelds, Wells, Grey and Douglas, scores of civilian air strategists are urging and advising the government along the same lines.

Dozens of private citizens have written the war office and Admiralty declaring they will finance the construction of one aeroplane if authorized by the government. The government is facing a veritable deluge of advice, each parcel of it telling that the time to strike Germany by air has come.

Italy's Warning For Serbia to Keep Hands Off in Albania New Phase in Balkan States Tangle

ALLIES EFFORTS MAY FAIL

(By United Press.)

Geneva, Aug. 14.—Italy's recent warning to Serbia to keep hands off in Albania constitutes one of the most serious stumbling blocks in the allies efforts to win Bulgaria to take part in the war, it was learned here today.

Despite the Anglo-French diplomats promise of expansion towards the Adriatic if she makes concessions to Bulgaria, Serbia fears Italy will refuse to sanction her occupation of territory along the Adriatic coast. The allies have been told that unless Italy gives positive assurance that she will not attempt to thwart Serbia's ambitions, Serbia cannot even consider a request to cede Serbian Macedonia to Bulgaria.

* EVER THINK HOW OLD *
* YOU ARE MENTALLY *

Berkely, Cal., Aug. 14.—Never question a woman's age.

Dr. Henry H. Goddard, professor of psychology at the University of California summer session, says we all have two ages, a chronological age and a mental age. They are not always the same. One may be from two to five years older mentally than in actuality. In such a case one would be known as abnormally bright. Or, on the other hand, if one is backward in school, it is probable that he is younger in mentally than actuality. An imbecile who has passed twenty years in this vale of tears may be only two years old mentally.

Dr. Goddard recently described the Binet tests for mental defectives. According to tests, children are asked certain questions and on the basis of their answers, grade as to mental age. Questions are asked which do not depend on instruction but come within the common knowledge of every child. For instance, a normal child of 5 should be able to copy a square. If the child under observation cannot do this it is an indication that he is under 5 years mentally. Of course, the result of one question asked would not be taken as final evidence of defect. A long list of questions are gone through, tests of touch, sight and other senses, made, before the child is definitely classed as defective or feeble-minded.

Years of study by Binet, De Sanctis and other scientists were necessary to compile the tests. Many hundreds of normal children had to be examined before it could be determined what knowledge a child of any age should have. The system as now perfected is in use in most of the modern schools of the country.

MUST CUT WEEDS ALONG HIGHWAYS

Provisions Made For Compensation to Farmers Under Law of Last Legislature.

NOW CLASSED AS ROAD WORK

Weeds Along Farms May be Cut by Supervisor and Work Charged on Tax Duplicates.

The farmers generally are not acquainted with the fact that the recent legislature enacted a law concerning the cutting of weeds along public highways. The second section of the act provides that any land owner who complies with the first provision concerning the cutting of weeds between June 15 and September 1 shall be allowed for such work $1.50 per day, eight hours' work to constitute a day, and a proportionate rate for each fraction of a day necessarily employed thereat, the work to be done under the direction of the supervisor in charge of said road district and to be credited upon his road taxes as other work is credited.

A failure to comply with the law means that the road supervisor shall consider it his duty to cut down or cause to be cut down all briars, thistles, burrs, docks, willows, sumac, reeds, cattails, tall grass, shrubs, and all other growths, which in any manner either partly or wholly obstruct view of any highway, and the supervisor is instructed under the law to prepare an itemized statement of the total cost of the work, including the cost of the labor and he shall sign the statement and certify it to the county auditor of the county in which the lands are located.

It is the duty of the auditor to place the same on the tax duplicate, and it is the duty of the treasurer to collect all such special weeds taxes at the same time and in the same manner as road taxes are collected, and the treasurer shall have no authority to issue a receipt for road taxes unless the special weed tax is paid.

A penalty of not less than $5 fine nor more than $10 is required under the statute for failure to comply with the statute.

DATE FOR FALL EVENT SELECTED

Annual Festival and Horse Show
Will be Held Here Last Week
of October This Year.

TENTATIVE PLANS ARE MADE

Public Meeting Will be Held in Court
House Tuesday Afternoon,
August 31.

Meeting together Friday night, horse show promoters and the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce selected the last week in October for the annual fall festival, horse show and combination sale. The week opens on the twenty-fifth of the month.

Advertising the fall event will be started at once. Promoters expect to visit all of the county fairs in this section of the state between now and the time for the festival and show and spread the praises of it far and near.

It was also determined to call a public meeting at the court house assembly room Tuesday afternoon, August 31, which is immediately after the Shelby county fair to make final arrangements for the show and to determine certain things that will have to be settled. Furthermore, at that time, it is thought, a number of committees will be named to do the large amount of work that is to be done to make the festival and show the success it was last year.

In selecting the date, an effort was made not to conflict with anything that would attract Rush county people. In the past, horse show promoters have always tried to avoid Lexington races, because they attract many horsemen from this county. Besides, they are the last harness races of the season and after that all horse trainers and others interested in good horse flesh return home.

The Lexington races will be held October 4 to 16 and the next week would have been picked for the fall festival and horse show but for the fact that the state meeting of the Red Men will be held in Indianapolis October 21 and 22. That meeting conflicted with the horse show and fall festival last year and drew many persons from the city and county to Indianapolis.

The boosters have a number of things on tap. Certain days will be allotted the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce and commercial bodies from smaller cities in this part of Indiana and they will be invited to be Rushville's guests on these occasions.

One of the things to be taken up at the general meeting in the court house Tuesday afternoon, August 31, will be the question of booths during the week. The booths were used for the first time last year and the general impression was that they added much to the show and festival. They changed the aspect of the business section of the city entirely and gave the appearance of a gala week. Judging from the talk among the merchants and others this year, there isn't any question but that the booths will be used again this year.

H. B. Marks, amusement man, will be invited to appear before the public meeting Tuesday afternoon, August 31, to present a proposition which he has to put on some special attractions in connection with the fall festival and horse show. Mr. Marks had a representative here a few weeks ago and proposed a week of amusement, but the merchants turned it down because they did not think it was opportune.

It was assured that there will be an

GOING TO ENCAMPMENT

Several Members of U. R. K. of P.
Will Leave For French Lick.

From fifteen to twenty members of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias company here expect to leave Rushville Sunday for French Lick Springs to attend the biennial encampment of the Uniform Rank of Indiana and Illinois. Some members went in machines, but the majority will leave on the Pennsylvania in the morning at 7:10 o'clock. Prizes are to be awarded this year, not for drilling, but for the best attendance. The last encampment was held at Danville, Ill., and many from here enjoyed the trip to Danville. S. L. Trabue, a general on the staff of the major general commanding the Uniform Rank, will go in his automobile, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kiplinger.

BAND OF GYPSIES DID NOT TARRY LONG

Rovers Came in This Afternoon to
Tell Fortunes But Were Soon
Driven Out by Police.

DRIVEN OUT OF CONNERSVILLE

A band of gypsies, which harried the people of Connerville Friday by begging and trying to tell fortunes, rolled into Rushville this afternoon, but was not allowed to tarry long. Someone notified the police and the officers told them to keep moving as there was nothing here for them.

Before the police reached them, however, some of the women in the crowd began begging, but were soon stopped. Rushville has had some experience with this class of hapless wanderers and it has been the custom here for several years never to allow them to remain in the city. Their chief occupation generally is thieving, but their apparent method of earning a living is by telling fortunes.

The Connerville police soon recalled the band and drove them out of the city, not allowing them to remain much longer than the police here did.

EGG CAR WILL BE HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Shippers and Others Interested Are Urged to Take Eggs and See
How They Are Canded.

EXPERTS TO DEMONSTRATE

Shippers of poultry and eggs and all others interested in the business are invited to take eggs, in quantity up to ninety dozen, to the United States department of agriculture poultry and egg demonstration car which will be at the Pennsylvania railroad station here next Tuesday. The car will be open all day, from eight-thirty in the morning until four-thirty in the afternoon.

The car is coming for the purpose of demonstrating practical methods of candling, grading, chilling and packing eggs and the handling of poultry for the market. Specialists in charge of the car will be glad to grade eggs for all who bring them, according to market requirements and to explain each grade. The eggs taken by local producers will remain their property.

TO RESUME WORK ON HIGH SCHOOL

Contractor Says he Hopes to Finish
Manilla Building in Time For School This Winter.

STARTED ABOUT A YEAR AGO

Construction Held up Because of
Lack of Funds—School Patrons
Are Rejoicing.

School patrons of Walker township were rejoiced Friday when they learned that work on the new Walker township high school building would be resumed next week and the building would likely be ready for occupancy soon after the date for the opening of the school.

The good news was brought to Manilla when C. S. Williams, the contractor, arrived from his home in Tipton, Indiana, and announced that he would proceed to finish the building at once. The building will be put in such condition that it may be used during the regular school year.

It will be readily recalled that work was stopped on the building because of the lack of township funds to complete the job. The building was started a year ago and should have been finished before the last school year closed, but for the delay.

Last winter the high school and grades convened in the various available rooms about the town, but this year this arrangement is impossible, therefore the new building must be finished sufficiently to afford occupancy by the pupils. During the last school season the grades held school in the rooms above the Manilla bank and three rooms of the Manilla hotel, and the high school convened in the hall above the Whisman hardware store.

A representative of Mr. Williams stated Friday evening that it would probably be a few weeks after the regular date for resuming school in the fall before the building would be completed. An efficient corps of workers will be set to work during the coming week.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Claude Walker Fixes Liabilities at
$10,622 and Assets at $5,762.

Claude Walker, a well known farmer of this county, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal court in Indianapolis. Walker places his liabilities at $10,622 and his assets at $5,762. The first meeting of the creditors is scheduled for Monday, August 23, at one-thirty o'clock at the library of the federal building in Indianapolis. It will be recalled that some time ago A. B. Irvin and the Farmers Trust company attempted to obtain a receiver for Walker, but failed when the case tried in the local circuit court.

MEXICAN FLURRY RESULT OF PLOT

Attempt Was Made to Stampede the
United States Into War, But
it Evidently Failed.

BORDER TROUBLE A PART OF IT

President Wilson's Note to Carranza
Will be Made Public Tomorrow
Intervention Far Away.

Washington, August 14.—The recent Mexican flurry was a plot to stampede the United States into war. Three hours after President Wilson arrived in Washington it petered out. The identity of the plotters is not public property, but in Washington and other cities an investigation is under way to discover the interests behind the attempt.

The plotters felt that when Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats met, the time for action had arrived. Their scheme was to cause trouble along the border and to antagonize Carranza, but the attempted stampede failed.

Intervention is as far away as ever today.

President Wilson's note to Carranza and the Mexican leaders will be made public tomorrow. From a reliable source it was learned today that the appeal is very similar to the former one urging the military leaders to get together for peace and promising recognition if this is done along constitutional lines.

KEEP UP ATTACK ON KOVNO

General Von Hindenberg Continues
to Gain Ground.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, August 14.—General Von Hindenberg's troops attacking the fortress of Kovno have stormed and captured a fortified forrest in front of the fortress.

"Between the Narew and the Bug we have reached the Slina-Nurzew section," said the official statement. "East of Warsaw the Bavarians have occupied Sieblec and are approaching the Bug northeast of Sekeles, having repulsed several German counter attacks."

SECOND PHASE OF CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Russian Center on Eastern Front is
Gradually Giving Ground With
Very Little Resistance

FLANKS BEING HARASSED

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (Via The Hague), Aug. 14.—The second phase of the campaign on the eastern front is rapidly drawing to a close—the Russian center giving ground with little resistance in its retreat to the Kovne-Brest-Litevsh line.

Attacking the Russian wings are Von Hindenberg and Mackensen, the two greatest generals Germany has produced during the present war.

Kovne is being subjected to terrific assaults by Von Hindenberg and there is not the slightest doubt here that the fortress must soon succumb. Mackensen is pressing slowly northward on Brest-Litevsk, dealing heavy blows on the Russian left flank.

DEATH LIST NOT TO REACH 1,000

Eastland Has Been Righted and
Search of Hulk Expected to be Completed Today.

ESTIMATES BELIEVED HIGH

(By United Press.)

Chicago, August 14.—The doomed ship Eastland, which three weeks ago this morning toppled in the Chicago river with 2,500 children, women and men on board, had been drawn nearly upright today by wrecking tugs.

There was growing belief among the wreckers and officials that the estimate of bodies placed as high as 500 still held in the charnel ship would be found to have been grossly exaggerated. With only ten on the coroner's missing list and 843 bodies recovered, it was believed the death list might not go over 1,000 at the outside. The search in the hulk was expected to be completed late this afternoon.

The remains of Mrs. Maria Smelser, who died yesterday at Flint, Mich., will arrive here Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock over the C. H. & D. The funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence, 320 West Third street. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

The Williams family reunion will be held at Mattern park, Marion, Ind., next Thursday.

RAIN GENERAL ALL OVER STATE

Optimistic Weather Man Predicted
Fair Skies But Still it Continues to Fall in Gobs

HEAVY LOSS TO THE FARMERS

Downfall Today Makes Impossible
Threshing Sunday, Which Many
Planned For Day of Rest

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 14.—Farmers from all parts of Indiana today reported great damage done wheat by the continual wet weather. Those fortunate to have threshed are congratulating themselves, for the wheat of their neighbors is rotting in shock and in many cases has begun to sprout.

Conservative estimates places the loss to farmers at many thousands of dollars.

Despite the optimistic weather man who predicted fair weather today, reports received by the United Press indicated general rains, with the center of the rain belt probably in their neighborhood. It rained here throughout the night. At Columbus today it rained 1.3—4 inches in a short time this morning.

It rained at Terre Haute, Princeton, Bedford, Vincennes, Lafayette, Covington, Seymour, Greensburg, Connerville and Newcastle. Rain threatened at Fort Wayne and Logansport.

The downfall of rain today made Sunday in the wheat field an impossibility. Many farmers in Rush county had the day of rest marked down for a day of rest threshing, but all prospect of such a thing was erased this morning when rain began to fall gently, and then increased with such speed that is was soon a downpour.

The most optimistic of farmers have had their patience severely tried. They counted on Friday, the thirteenth, to break the hood—and it did, but only for a day. The sun shone for the first time for more than a few minutes at a time since Sunday, August 1. There was a heavy rain of the last day of last month. The first day of the month was not so bad, but every day since then, with the exception of Friday, the thirteenth, rain has fallen in Rushville and vicinity.

The rain today was general all over the county and in this part of the state for that matter, according to United Press dispatches. Some farmers in Rushville today said they knew of fields of wheat that would never be entered with the threshing machine if the present wet weather continues.

MEXICANS ARE UNITING

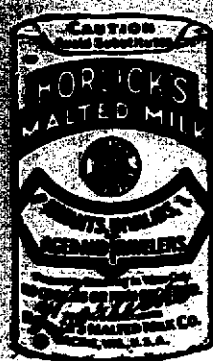

Reported Thousands of Villistas
Have Surrendered to Carranza.

(By United Press.)

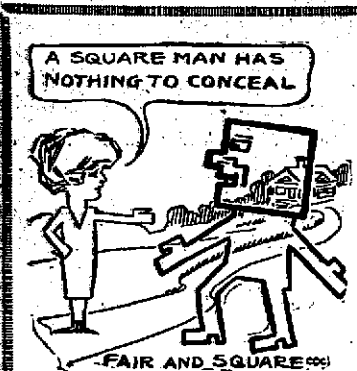

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 14.—Several thousand Villistas in various parts of Mexico have surrendered to Carranza forces as they desired to unify the military forces against possible American intervention. Carranzista Consul Burns was advised from Vera Cruz today.

Burns expressed the belief that powerful Mexican and American interests are encouraging the border raids, hoping to bring about intervention.

The Red Men will have work in the Warriors degree Tuesday evening.

Barefooted Soldiers.
Slam's present military organization dates from 1902 and is the outcome of two years' study of the various military organizations of Europe. It embodies the militia system, with a dash of universal service.

Every citizen is liable to serve for two years in the line and then for five years in the first and ten years in the second reserve, but only so many are called up as are required to keep up a strength of about 30,000 men on a peace footing. Those who are thus called up receive as compensation certain abatements of taxes. The rest of those liable to serve pass straight into the reserve, which is called out at certain intervals for from fifteen to sixty days' training.

Besides his arms and his clothes, the Siamese soldier receives 4 ticals (a tical equals about 35 cents) a month, besides 25 satangs (about 8 cents) a day, half of which latter sum, however, is stopped to pay for the single meal of rice that the state "provides." The soldier has to buy his own footwear and the rest of his food. No wonder the majority of the army goes barefooted.—"In the Lands of the Sun."

Spinning a Web.
A patient Englishman, who last summer watched a garden spider spin its nest from start to finish, has told what he saw in Knowledge. At half past 9 o'clock in the evening the spider, a half grown female, began work by dropping from one branch of a pine tree to another below and there making fast a line, which eventually formed two of the perpendicular radiating lines of the web. From that time it continued to work without interruption until twenty-five minutes after 1 the next morning. The network and the radial lines were done by half past 12, and the spiral part of the web was consequently made in less than an hour. He says the finished web was one of the most perfect he has ever seen.

CO-OPERATION ENCOURAGING

Indiana State Automobile Association Is Given Support of Prominent Citizens.

DEMAND FOR BETTER ROADS

Indiana Annually Paying Out More Money For Roads Than Any Other State in Union.

The state wide co-operation which the Indiana State Automobile Association is receiving in its campaign for a state highway department and better roads for Indiana is most encouraging. In the numerous cities and towns throughout the state where local clubs have already been organized or are in the process of organization, the active support of the most representative men has been given to the Association's Field Secretaries who are assisting the local communities in perfecting their organizations.

Everywhere the taxpayers are not only asking but demanding better roads and more of them in return for the millions of dollars of their money which is being spent annually for road construction and road maintenance, they see the means to this end in the organization and affiliation of a state-wide chain of local clubs composed of automobile owners and good road enthusiasts.

Indiana is yearly paying out more money for roads than any other state in the union regardless of size or wealth, not even excepting New York with eight times its resources. The people of Indiana are spending about $15,000,000 annually for roads, which amount is more than all the expenditures of the state put together. While the taxpayers have zealously provided for the economical and efficient expenditure of the money which they pay annually to run the state and its institutions, they have made no such provisions for the supervision and economical expenditure of the much greater sum which they spend for roads.

The result is that for each dollar of the $15,000,000 which is expended annually on the highways, the community gets back less than 30c worth of road. In other words, for the $15,000,000 of the taxpayers' money spent last year in connection with the highways of the state, the several townships got in return something less than $4,500,000 worth of road. Would, or could, any business corporation long continue on such a basis? Business corporations today that are spending $15,000,000 annually are employing the best and most expert men obtainable in their respective lines of endeavor, so as to insure the greatest return for the money expended and yet the state of Indiana has no one to supervise the expenditure of this vast sum nor anyone on whom she can place the responsibility of efficiently and economically administering this fund.

At the present time, in this state there are no legal requirements for standard specifications or for testing the quality or durability of the materials used in the construction of roads, although the law does take the pains to specify that the person to whom is entrusted the construction of the road must be a resident of the township in which the proposed road is located, this being the sole requirement of fitness for his duties. It is, therefore, not strange that under the prevailing system, hundreds of miles of roads in this state are either imperfectly constructed or improper materials are used and the question of traffic requirements left entirely out of consideration.

The result of this condition, in most instances, is that our so-called improved roads begin to give way and wear out and become practically worthless long before the outstanding bonds, which were floated to build them, have matured. This is an inexcusable economic waste which would not be tolerated by any legitimate business organization and should not be tolerated by the taxpayers of Indiana. The people pay for good roads and should insist on having them.

Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Table.)

There is a secret of keeping young looking, and it is not in the use of cosmetics, but in the use of the "Beauty Table." This is a scientific method of eating and drinking, which is the secret of youthfulness. It is a scientific method of eating and drinking, which is the secret of youthfulness. It is a scientific method of eating and drinking, which is the secret of youthfulness.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Message of Health.)

Unhappy eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallow skin, and other skin troubles are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels, and a polluted blood stream. The chief cause of these troubles is constipation. It is a scientific method of eating and drinking, which is the secret of youthfulness.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "Sentinel" tablet is a substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

"Made-in-America"

There are thousands of acres of marsh lands in Minnesota, Wisconsin and other state which produce wire grass, entirely useless for feed, and, for many years considered an unmitigated nuisance. Such lands were worth from $2 to $3 an acre. Discovery that this wire grass was suited to use in the manufacture of floor matting and carpets was followed by establishment of factories whose owners bought such lands or leased them from the farmers. Land values immediately advanced to $20 or more an acre. Several thousand men were employed to gather the grass and to work in the mills weaving rugs and carpets. These mills became large buyers of cotton warp. This new industry became a factor in the "Made-in-America" campaign and supplied six and a half million square yards of matting annually to be sold in competition with 33,500,000 square yards imported in 1910, chiefly from Asia. The imports were reduced to 21,500,000 square yards in 1913, the "Made-in-America" product winning its place in the market with the aid of a protective tariff of 3½ cents per square yard. Democratic tariff law of 1913 cut the duty to 2½ cents and imports went up to 25,000,000 square yards, while some American mills closed their doors.

This shows the difference between the constructive policies of the Republican party and the destructive policies of the Democrats. In many of the states of the Union there are marsh lands that produce wire grass but will produce nothing else unless drained at great expense. In all these states there is labor and capital ready to engage in the manufacture of matting. In every city, village and countryside there are homes where rugs and carpets of this kind is being used. Today these homes are being supplied with matting from China and Japan. It remains for American voter to say in November 1916, whether he wants that 25,000,000 square yards, annually, of Asiatic matting superseded by a similar quantity "Made-in-America." Only an adequate protective tariff will make the change.

We should encourage boxing, wrestling and other manly sports in the life of our young people, especially among young boys. Japan is a nation of little giants, and all because of their physical training. Though small in stature, they are mighty in the art of self-defense. In America we pay so little attention to the physical development of our youth that the country is full of young men who are totally unable to offer any reasonable defense in case of attack. And the time may come when we will need every ounce of energy we can command to keep our national head above the waters of defeat.

The Administration's new and strange activity in favor of an adequate national defense is thought by some to be a Democratic theft of Republican clothes. Maybe. But even so, the garments will not fit. Democracy has always spelled Nation without a capital N. When Colonel Roosevelt talks about "another Buchanan," he undoubtedly has in mind the manner in which Buchanan frittered away the days of grace prior to the Civil war and left the Nation defenseless in its hour of need. History indeed repeats itself. Buchanan was succeeded by a Republican President.

FINAL RALLY FALLS SHORT

Red Men Throw Scare Into K. of P.'s When Conde Weakens in Seventh Inning.

GOES GOOD FOR FIVE FRAMES

Pythian Team Retains Lead in Fraternal League by 10 to 6. Victory—Battle Next Week.

The Red Men threw an awful scare into the Knights of Pythias by staging a rally in the final inning of the game yesterday afternoon. The contest was finally won by the K. of P. team but it was mighty uncomfortable for a time for the league leaders.

After breezing along fine for six innings Scott Conde blew up and aided by his teammates the Red Men scored four times making the final count 10 to 6. It was a nice game up until the final frame when it was turned into a wild and wooly exhibition making it a weird contest from the stand point of a spectator.

The Knights of Pythias retained their lead in the Fraternal league standing, while the Red Men dropped into a tie for the cellar championship with the Knights of Columbus. Conde pitched fine ball for four innings, only one hit and not a sign of a run being made off his delivery. The first hit came in the fourth when Stoops landed a high one to left field. Bert Conde misjudged the ball and it went for two bases.

The Red Men scored their first two runs in the fifth when a double by Miller coupled with an error by Bert Conde and an error by Scott Conde practically handed them to the Red Men.

Conde weakened in the final inning and it was only through the noble efforts of the rest of the team that the Red Men were stopped. Yazel led off with a single and was advanced to second when Levi, who batted for Sweet, followed with a single to right. Hosier hit one through the infield, but Yazel was held on third. With no one out and the bases filled Stoops was safe when Brown threw a little wild, letting Yazel score. Black forced Stoops at second, Carter to Cassidy, but Levi counted. In attempting to complete the double play Cassidy threw wild to first, Hosier scoring and Black taking second. All this happened with only one down. Waggoner singled, scoring Black. Small flew out to Tompkins and Miller ended the game and cut the rally of Red Men short by grounding out to Brown who threw him out at first.

The Knights of Pythias found Yazel rather easy. Carter counted in the very first inning. He was walked and took second on Cassidy's sacrifice. He drew the throw from Stoops and the ball went wild at third base, Carter scoring. A fast double play cut down the chances when McDaniel forced McGuire at second and was himself caught at first.

The K. of P. team came back in the second and scored three more runs. Yazel was as wild as a July rabbit, passing the first two men. Tompkins singled, driving in Camp and B. Conde. Brown flew to Small in right field, who threw the ball over Miller's head in attempting to head Tompkins at the plate.

There was nothing doing in the third, but the K. of P.'s annexed four more in the fourth. Three hits one a double by Carter, and two sacrifice flies, one by Cassidy and the other by McGuire did the business. The K. of P.'s just kept on plugging away and made two more in the sixth. Brown was hit by Yazel and S. Conde was walked. Carter flew to Hosier and then Cassidy slammed one to center field, scoring both men.

One real battle in the Fraternal league is expected next Friday when the K. of P.'s tackle the Elks.

Red Cross Ball Blue will wash double as many clothes as any other. Always ask for Red Cross Ball Blue.

BILL DONOVAN HAS MADE GOOD

Leader of New York Yankees Deserves Credit Even if he Does Not Win Pennant.

TEAM FAILURE WITH OTHERS

But he Has Brought Them up to Point Where They Flirt With First Division All Time

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES

New York, Aug. 14.—It is, or should be, hats off to Bill Donovan. He's made good. Bill isn't going to give New York a pennant this year, he many not even bring his Yanks under the wire in the first division, but the big fellow has nevertheless delivered, and he should be handed his roses now before the heat of the Hot Stove League shrivels his prowess.

The Yanks have been loitering coyly around the first division all season, which is a thing so utterly new for Gotham fans that they even now can hardly realize it. Under the old Farrell-Devery regime, with its endless succession of managers, the Highlanders were the Belgium of Ban Johnson's League. Some of the best managers in the business—George Stahlings, Frank Chance, Hal Chase, Harry Wolverton—they all took a shot at it with the same luck.

Bill Donovan took hold of a corry looking squad—one that had finished a poor seventh the year before. For a while the Yanks set the pace in the American League, which was quite a feat considering the class showed by several other clubs. The inevitable drop came, but it wasn't so pronounced as in former years. Somehow the Yanks hit the top of the second division and lingered there without going on down. And the Yanks have been doing something this season that even the oldest inhabitant cannot remember their doing before—they've been winning games in the ninth inning. They've got that old fighting spirit that doesn't crumble when they come up in the last inning with a two run lead staring them in the face.

Bill vowed when he took hold of the club that he'd have harmony. He has, at least so far as is known. He's wedded out the trouble makers and the moss-backs, and he's going into the 1916 race with a team of young players that even Connie Mack might envy. A few veterans remain, of course, principally Roy Hartzell and Roger Peckinpaugh, but they're delivering a good brand of ball. Incidentally, Bill Donovan shattered several precedents when he proceeded to get along with Roger Peckinpaugh a player who had managed the club before him. The archives of baseball's history are filled with cases of trouble following a reduction in the ranks, but Bill and Peck seem to work together like a team of thoroughbreds.

The team today stands far ahead of the 1914 crew in most all ways. The club is harmonious, it has twice as many extra base hits now as it had at the close of the last season, and it has the spirit that makes a winner.

There has been a constant stream of talent through the Polo Grounds the last few weeks. And more are on the way. Ruppert and Huston are combing the tall grass for youngsters, where Comiskey is buying his players' already put up in packages with the net playing ability stamped on it.

The Yanks may not win a pennant next year, but if they hang together and Bill Donovan remains, they're going to be heard from in 1917.

SALVATION OF BRITISH IN AIR

Batter Down Rhine Bridges With Raids and Trench Warfare in France is Ended.

DESTROY MUNITIONS PLANT

This is Only Bit of Advice That Comes From England's Civilian Strategists.

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, July 26. (By Mail)—England's salvation is in the air.

Batter down the Rhine bridges with daily air raids and trench warfare in France is ended.

Send a thousand aeroplanes with 5 bombs each over the huge Krupp munitions factory at Essen and Germany is seriously crippled.

Destroy the nine bridges over the Meuse that daily make possible the transport of arms and ammunition to the German armies in the West and the German armies will be on their knees.

Build or buy a thousand aeroplanes immediately, or two thousand or ten thousand and England will win.

This parcel of advice is the talk of England today. It is being printed in the newspapers, talked on the streets and handed to the government in parliament, through the war office and the Admiralty.

It comes from England strategists. They are agreed that England's future battles must be won in the upper stratum.

It was L. Blin Desbelds, lecturer in aeronautics at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, and one of the best known aeronautical experts in England who first told the government is said to be considering such a ministry.

Today Desbelds is asking the government to add to its air fleet a thousand aeroplanes at once.

Collaborating with other experts Desbelds has gathered the following information in support of his aerial offensive and handed it to the government.

That an average of one military train every ten minutes crosses each of the fifteen bridges spanning the Rhine. They carry food, ammunition and reinforcements to the German armies in the West. This means that during every 24 hours 144 military trains pass into France and Belgium over each of the these Rhine bridges or 2,160 over all of them. The German armies are wholly dependent on this constant supply and are provisioned in reserves for four days only.

That every ounce of supplies carried by this great steel caravan must cross nine bridges spanning the Meuse to reach the bulk of the German forces now holding back the British and French on the great line across the continent.

Desbelds has further suggested to the government that daily air raids over both the Rhine and Meuse must seriously hamper the enemy's supply. One thousand aeroplanes on this duty within a week, Desbelds suggested could possibly not only cut off the vast supplies of the enemy but render the German campaign in the West practically impossible.

What Desbelds has told the government about bridges he has also applied to Krupp at Essen.

One of the most vigorous supporters of Desbelds and his theory is H. G. Wells, noted English author. But Wells goes further than Desbelds. He is urging through a series of newspaper articles the building or buying of 10,000 aeroplanes and says "about the ultimate result of the war there can then be no doubt." "If we can smash Essen, we can hamstring Germany," says Wells. "We want aeroplanes going to and coming from Germany like ants about an anthill, like bees between a hive and clover, but going each with its two or three hundred pounds of high explosives, and coming back empty, from now until the war ends." "Daily service of destruction to Germany."

Wells tells the war office it is fighting in the fashion of 1899. He advises war office that thousands of young men from among both naval and military sources could be turned into airmen in a month and every one would be willing to risk his life in aerial attacks on German communications, ammunition factories and bridges.

"It is cheaper," he adds, "to launch 2,000 aeroplanes at Essen to risk one battleship. Aeroplanes will shorten the war. The government is spending $15,000,000 a day. To spend $250,000,000 on aeroplanes will be cheaper in the long run."

C. G. Grey, will known London aeronautical editor, goes one better than either Desbelds or Wells. He asks the government to build or procure 400 aeroplanes a week until 20,000 have been added to the nation's aerial fleet.

James Douglas, in the London Opinion suggests that every possible aeroplane factory in America and Canada as well as England be put to the task of making aircraft for England. He adds;

"The aeroplane is the only weapon that can turn German lines. The main thing is to get plenty of this weapon and quickly. The aeroplane can fly over heavy guns, over the machine guns, over the steel and concrete redoubts, over the trenches. It can hit the Germans behind their lines. The flight sub-lieutenant who downed a Zeppelin single handed has shown what the aeroplane can do. We want ten or twenty thousand Warnefords, who will deluge German railways, stations, depots, airsheds, bridges munition factories with explosives. The aerial offensive has not yet been organized."

Like Desbelds, Wells, Grey and Douglas, scores of civilian air strategists are urging and advising the government along the same lines.

Dozens of private citizens have written the war office and Admiralty declaring they will finance the construction of one aeroplane if authorized by the government. The government is facing a veritable deluge of advice, each parcel of it telling that the time to strike Germany by air has come.

Italy's Warning For Serbia to Keep Hands Off in Albania New Phase in Balkan States Tangle

ALLIES EFFORTS MAY FAIL

(By United Press.)

Geneva, Aug. 14.—Italy's recent warning to Serbia to keep hands off in Albania constitutes one of the most serious stumbling blocks in the allies efforts to win Bulgaria to take part in the war, it was learned here today.

Despite the Anglo-French diplomats promise of expansion towards the Adriatic if she makes concessions to Bulgaria, Serbia fears Italy will refuse to sanction her occupation of territory along the Adriatic coast. The allies have been told that unless Italy gives positive assurance that she will not attempt to thwart Serbia's ambitions, Serbia cannot even consider a request to cede Serbian Macedonia to Bulgaria.

* EVER THINK HOW OLD *
* YOU ARE MENTALLY *

Berkely, Cal., Aug. 14.—Never question a woman's age.

Dr. Henry H. Goddard, professor of psychology at the University of California summer session, says we all have two ages, a chronological age and a mental age. They are not always the same. One may be from two to five years older mentally than in actuality. In such a case one would be known as abnormally bright. Or, on the other hand, if one is backward in school, it is probable that he is younger in mentally than actuality. An imbecile who has passed twenty years in this vale of tears may be only two years old mentally.

Dr. Goddard recently described the Binet tests for mental defectives. According to tests, children are asked certain questions and on the basis of their answers, grade as to mental age. Questions are asked which do not depend on instruction but come within the common knowledge of every child. For instance, a normal child of 5 should be able to copy a square. If the child under observation cannot do this it is an indication that he is under 5 years mentally. Of course, the result of one question asked would not be taken as final evidence of defect. A long list of questions are gone through, tests of touch, sight and other senses, made, before the child is definitely classed as defective or feeble-minded.

Years of study by Binet, De Sanctis and other scientists were necessary to compile the tests. Many hundreds of normal children had to be examined before it could be determined what knowledge a child of any age should have. The system as now perfected is in use in most of the modern schools of the country.

MUST CUT WEEDS ALONG HIGHWAYS

Provisions Made For Compensation to Farmers Under Law of Last Legislature.

NOW CLASSED AS ROAD WORK

Weeds Along Farms May be Cut by Supervisor and Work Charged on Tax Duplicates.

The farmers generally are not acquainted with the fact that the recent legislature enacted a law concerning the cutting of weeds along public highways. The second section of the act provides that any land owner who complies with the first provision concerning the cutting of weeds between June 15 and September 1 shall be allowed for such work $1.50 per day, eight hours' work to constitute a day, and a proportionate rate for each fraction of a day necessarily employed thereat, the work to be done under the direction of the supervisor in charge of said road district and to be credited upon his road taxes as other work is credited.

A failure to comply with the law means that the road supervisor shall consider it his duty to cut down or cause to be cut down all briars, thistles, burrs, docks, willows, sumac, reeds, cat-tails, tall grass, shrubs, and all other growths, which in any manner either partly or wholly obstruct view of any highway, and the supervisor is instructed under the law to prepare an itemized statement of the total cost of the work, including the cost of the labor and he shall sign the statement and certify it to the county auditor of the county in which the lands are located.

It is the duty of the auditor to place the same on the tax duplicate, and it is the duty of the treasurer to collect all such special weeds taxes at the same time and in the same manner as road taxes are collected, and the treasurer shall have no authority to issue a receipt for road taxes unless the special weed tax is paid.

A penalty of not less than $5 fine nor more than $10 is required under the statute for failure to comply with the statute.

* ST. HAY FEVER DAY IS *
* OBSERVED IN PHILA. *

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—Philadelphia, which opens the hay fever season one day earlier than cities farther north, is celebrating St. Hay Fever Day, not waiting for the official date, which is tomorrow. The day opened with Chantunqua salutes and will close with handkerchiefs still in the air. All victims in touch with the U. S. Hay Fever Association and in position to accept its advice are seeking places where the pollen of the rose, ragweed and goldenrod do not fill the air.
